

Intro with the title, and big spooky music!

We then cut to the shot of a boy standing alone at the front door of his house

We face him as we see that he looks terrified of something

A hand from above then lays itself on his shoulder

It's his mother! And she's all "dont worry about your first day at school! Just be nice to the kids and don't act too weird with them and try to make friends."

We then fade to an establishing shot of a schoolyard

And we cut to our main character playing with this ball by himself.

But then he looks up and sees something

He's looking at this group of kids talking and having fun

We close up on them and see that it's a bunch of boys talking to a pretty girl

The boy perks up, and decides he wants to talk to them/her.

Cut to the girl still talking to her friends

And then we see the main character walk up to the kids, and he's like "Hey wanna play catch with my ball?"

She looks happy and is like "OK!"

They play catch for a bit.

The girl then gets the ball....

....And then makes a menacing glare

The main character waits for the ball

~~But then all the kids crowd around him, and he gets scared~~

But then all the kids crowd around him, and he gets scared

~~She's then like "if you wanna be friends with us at this school, you gotta go by our rules!"~~

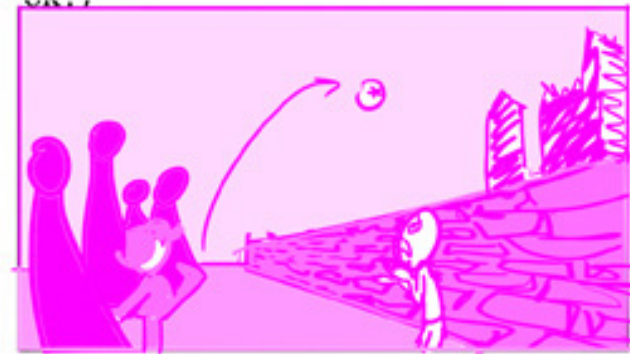

~~And she kicks his ball~~

She's then like "if you wanna be friends with us at this school, you gotta go by our rules!"

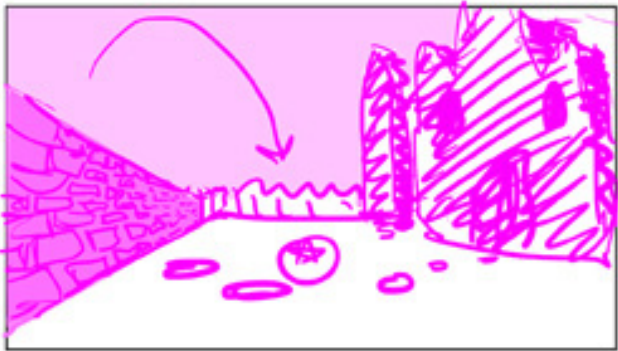

And she kicks his ball

And it flies up...

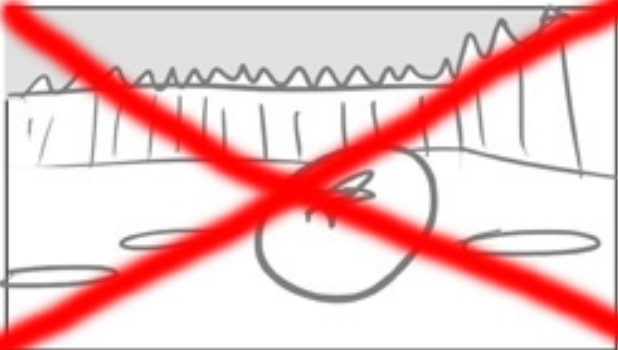

And the main character is like "nooo!"

...and the ball lands in the adjacent property.

~~Close-up shot on the ball, and then we zoom out to a wide shot to reveal the funny house that it's in front of~~

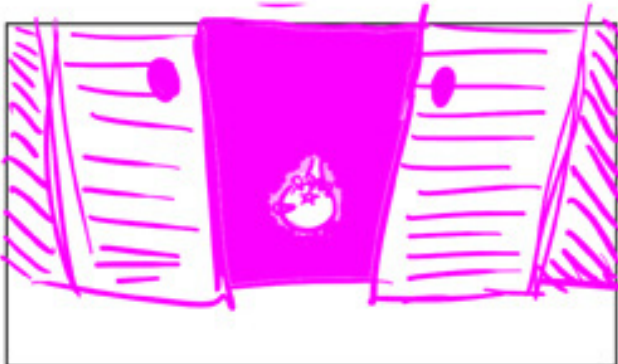

~~Side-shot of the ball...~~

~~mysterious hand comes out~~

~~all...~~

The ball then bounces into the open door of the front of the mansion

...and the house's front doors slam shut.

And we zoom out to look at the house to remind the viewer of where this all is.

the zoom out continues to show the boy looking over the brick wall at all of what just happened

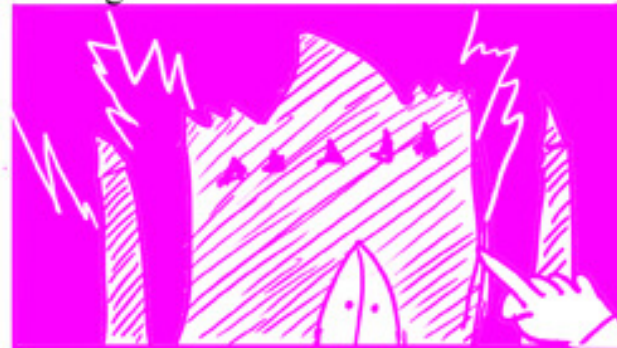

And then he turns around because the bitch girl who kicked his ball started talking

She's like "HA HA you have to go into the HAUNTED HOUSE!!! It's full of GHOSTS and scary murderous stuff!"

She points at the house and continues to explain how scary it is

And lightning strikes to emphasize how scary and full-of-monsters the house is.

And the boy just sighs to himself...

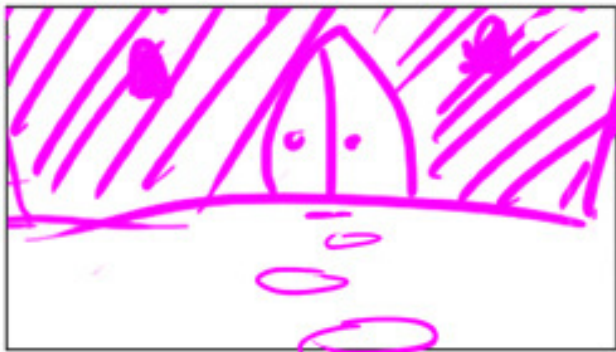

And is then like "ok fine goddammit I'll get the ball."

So he climbgs the brick wall...

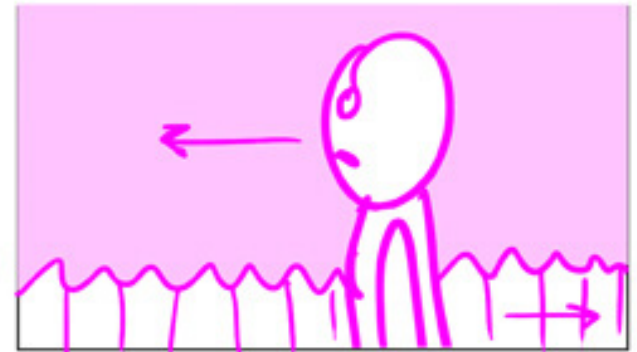

And hops over.

We look at a worm's-eye view of the front door of the house...

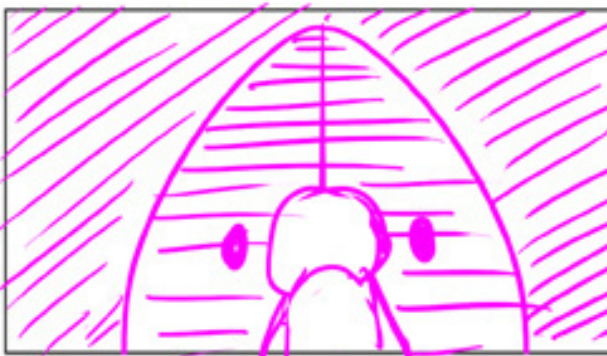

...as the boy falls into frame, but we only see his feet.

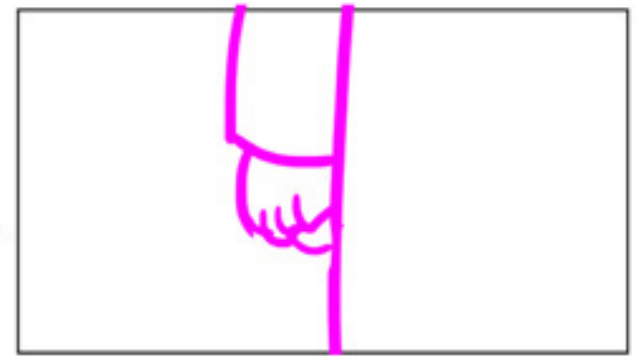

He walks towards the door (I imagine tension music would start to build up)

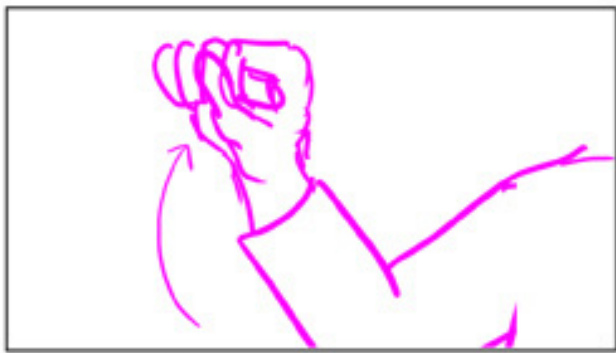

And he makes it to the door...

Another shot of him looking at the door for dramatic tensions effect

We see his right arm...

As he lifts it to knock on the door...

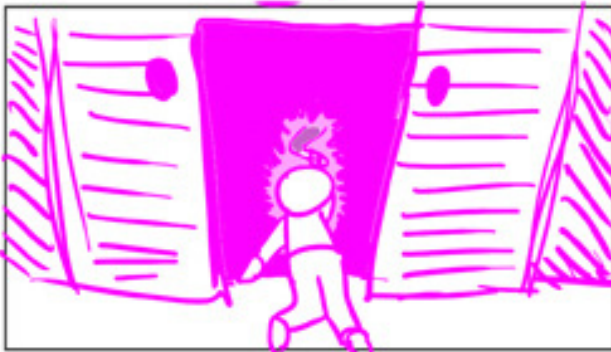

And then AHH!!! A TENTACLE FLIES OUT AND GRABS HIM BY THE WRIST!!!!

And the boy is just like "WHAT THE FUCK"

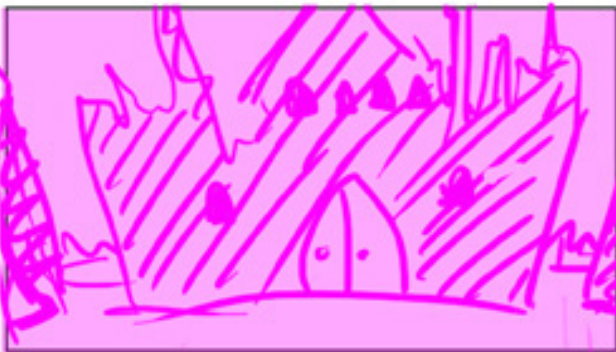

But it's too late, and the boy is dragged into the house.

This is him getting dragged into the house.

And then the door slams shut behind him

And as we zoom backwards... we fade... to... black...

...and then BANG!!! He's in the midst of a crazy awesome ghost party!

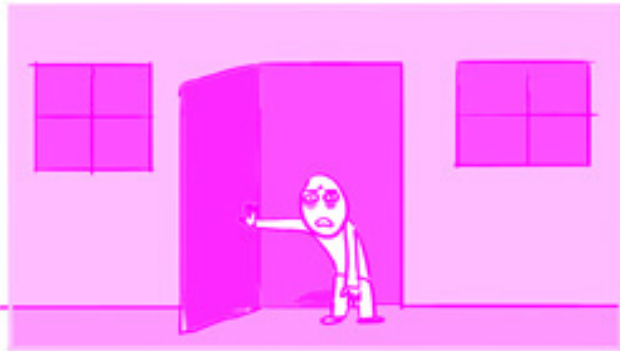

The ghouls are throwin' his ball around playfully... The ghosts are actually party

They're all drinking (non-alcoholic beverages) and having a great time...

And meanwhile the main character is just flat-out terrified.

Cut to later that day when the boy finally gets home from the party

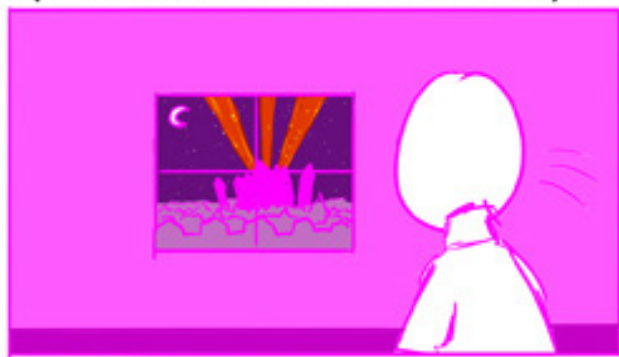

We see another shot of him looking tired. He's in his own house btw. I put a cat there cuz it was funny.

That night, we see him in his bed and he looks nervous about what happened earlier that day.

But then he's like "what?" as he hears a thumping base coming from outside.

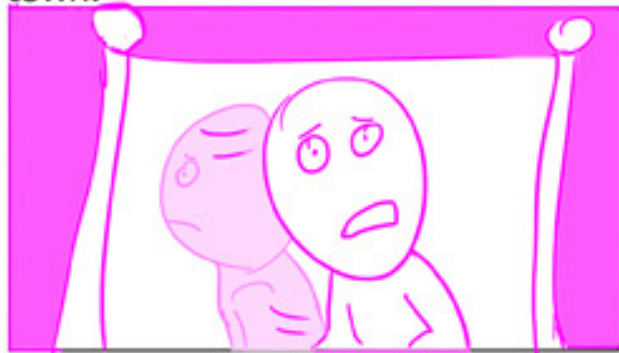

He gets up, and of course, he sees that it's the Party Ghosts from across town.

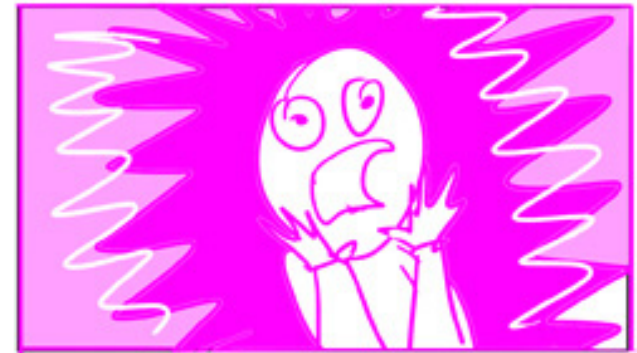

The boy feels torn about what he should do.

And then suddenly all the ghosts from the house appear in his room.

The boy turns around and is like "wha" And then he's like AH!!!!H!H!H!H!H!

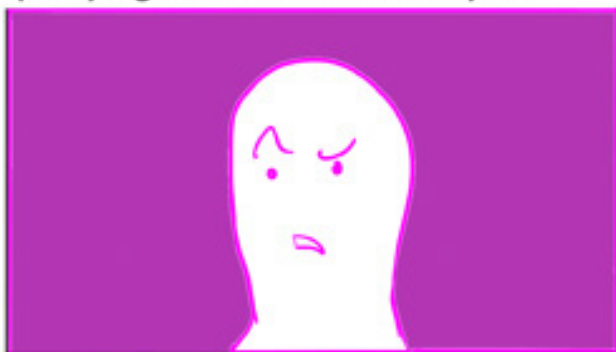

A front-man ghost appears, and he's just like "hey dude, why aren't ya partying with us? we miss you!"

And all the other ghosts are like "yea we miss you!!"

But the boy is too scared to even respond

And the main ghost is just like "wha..?"

And he's then like "well, OK, we won't force you to do anything you don't want to..."

And they all disappear in a ghostly vortex back to the party house.

And our main character is left alone.

Another shot of him feeling confused in his bed, and then.....fade to black.

Cut to the next day, we're looking at the school yard

~~...and he's just like "I'm being bullied just like in the movie"~~

~~"Yea, I copy pasted the frames. I'm lazy, whatever."~~

~~We are then re-introduced to everyone's least favorite bitch~~

~~And they're all calling him "Cheek boy"~~

We cut to the main girl from before, and she's like "HE'S POSSESSED!"

We see that she's pointing at the main character, and she's like "we must cleanse his soul!"

And he's just like "what the fuck"

And all the bad kids are like "Yea exorcism, exorcism! Clean him of the evil ghosts!"

And he's like "noo" as the kids all crowd in on him.

And the bully-girl watches as her minions tie the main character up.

And they all back off after tying him to a cross. (Is this becoming too un-PC?)

And she's just like "And now it's time for a trial by fire!!!" or something scary/dangerous like that.

And he's just like "omg no I'm gona die!"

And then he closes his eyes in defeat...

And then we cut to this big flash-back that's gone over everything that the boy's been through. From being bullied by his "friends" at school to meeting the ghosts, bla bla bla, it's a quick review over everything, cheesy flashback, bla bla bla

After this flashback, though, he realizes something...

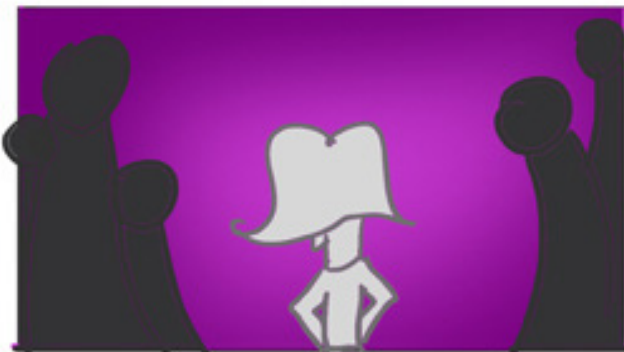

...and he lifts his eyes up with a menacing glare.

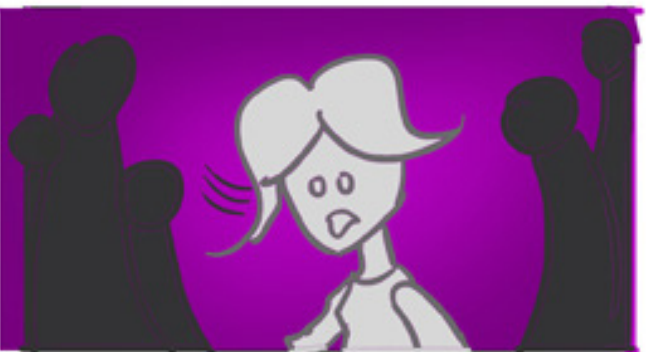

The girl is just like "any last words?"

But then suddenly all the ghosts appear right behind her.

She then at first doesn't notice..

but then she turns around..

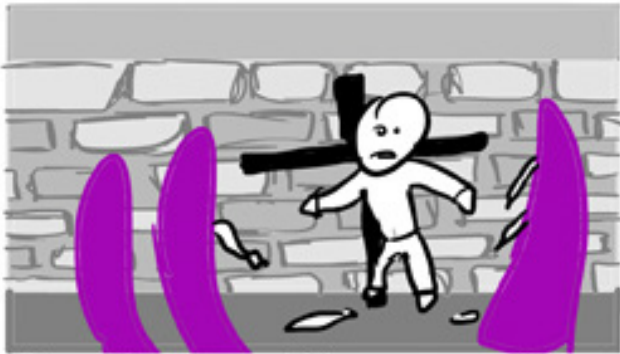

And sees all the ghosts, with the main one up in front.

And she immediately freaks out and they all run away scared as the ghosts are all like "oogaboogabooga!"

Once the mean kids are gone, the ghosts then untie the kid from the cross

And then the main ghost is like "hey dude, what's up. What do you wana do now?"

The kid is kind of stuned about everything that just happened at first...

But then he's just like "LET'S PARTAYYYY!!!"

And they're all like "wooo!!!"

THE END.
